Cover Letter

Dear Deloitte Hiring Committee,

I am writing to express interest in your internship opportunity. I am a University of Waterloo student in Computing and Financial Management pursuing joint honours in Computer Science, Finance, and Statistics, with several Waterloo work terms across public sector technology, equity research with integrated three statement and discounted cash flow analyses, reconciliation and revenue visibility work, and global enterprise technical support through Manulife.

Those roles sharpened listening, responsiveness, clear writing, structured analysis focused on drivers and downstream risks, and steady collaboration with supervisors and teammates. Outside work I contribute to UW Fintech analysis, partner and program leadership through UW UX Research Hub, case competition experience including third place in the SAF Investment Research Challenge plus finalist placements in SAF Strategy and Alpha FMC, and purposeful use of Gen AI tools including Copilot to tighten drafting and synthesis while keeping accountability for quality and judgment. I rely daily on Excel for financial modelling, PowerPoint for clear storylines suited to executives, Word, unified communications platforms, and the broader Office ecosystem.

Thank you for your time. I would value the chance to learn and contribute on your team.

Sincerely,
Jian Feng
